DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

In view of the indefinite nature of the claims, two types of double patenting rejections have been applied.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 2, 4-12, 14-17 and 19-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-26 of U.S. Patent No. Patent Publication No. 2004/0124504. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions encompass and claim aqueous dispersions of an electrically conductive organic polymer and a plurality of nanoparticles.

Claims 2, 4-12, 14-17 and 19-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-26 of U. S. Patent Publication No. 2004/0124504 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: Both inventions encompass and claim aqueous dispersions of an electrically conductive organic polymer and a plurality of nanoparticles and these components are essentially identical in both applications.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant is prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 6/21/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. There is clear overlap between the present and copending inventions. It would have been obvious to select an inorganic or an organic nanoparticle from the claimed invention of the copending application.

The rejection under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting over claims 2-14, 16-25, 27-33, 35-41 and 43 of U.S. Patent Application No. 10/804503 is withdrawn in view of applicant's comments.

Conclusion

2. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
